

The North Carolina Economic Development Board develops a comprehensive economic development plan for the state covering the following: recruitment strategies, including incentives; prioritization and coordination of economic development investments; workforce development; collaboration with education and research institutions; coordination of agencies, foundations and boards involved in economic development; and development of future technologies. The board also has a key role in the implementation of the plan through ongoing accountability reviews with the state's economic development agencies.

The board has 37 members, and the Governor appoints 23 members. Each member serves a four-year term.
